STRAIGHT TALK

Years ago, we made a choice to be different; to push the boundaries of what a burrito can be, to change the way all of us eat and enjoy fast food, and to redefine the bond between a company and its customers. Inspired by the words of architect Louis Kahn, we have somehow convinced ourselves of the following:

“even a burrito aspires
even a common ordinary burrito wants to be something more than it is wants to be something better than it is
and that...that is what we must be”

Food is what we do. It is how most of you judge us. Every ingredient we serve has to have a purpose. We strive for unexpected, bold and addictive flavors – “inspired”, some have said. Boloco is all about choice...a true variety of options that matter to you, our customers. This is what makes us different. Not everything we do is for everybody. We know that. But keep exploring. Your “vice” is on this menu, we promise you.

TALK TO US

Although we're far from perfect, listening carefully and reacting to your suggestions, kudos, and complaints has made us who we are today. In good times and in bad, you can count on us to be 100% honest with you, to never take ourselves too seriously, and to add a little spice to your day. There's more. Lot's more actually. This is just the beginning, so please stay in touch. Often.
